“I do believe art is more powerful than money, though. I still believe that. And if I ever find out money's more important, I'll knock it on the head.”

— D. Hirst

The Artist

Turner prize winner and epicenter of the YBA movement, Hirst is widely regarded as one of the most important artists working today, creating truly iconic artworks. Whether as a sculptor, an installation artist, a painter, or a printmaker, Hirst has produced many of the most spectacular and widely discussed works in recent years and helped to revolutionize the art market.

Born in Bristol (England) in 1965, Hirst's production has been boundary-redefining in nature since his generative work as a student at Goldsmiths College of Art.

The artist explores the complex relationships between art, beauty, religion, science, life and death with recurrent motifs such as dots, butterflies, cows, sharks, skulls, pills, and pharmacy cabinets.

The Beautiful Paintings are his latest iteration of his famous spin format, whereby he would pour pigments onto his canvases as they spun, allowing colour interactions and chance movements.

His works are exhibited in many museums and galleries around the world, at the Stedelijk Museum in Amsterdam, Tate London, Museum of Modern Art in New York, Museum Jumex in Mexico City, and 21st Century Museum of Contemporary art in Kanazawa, Japan, among others.

The artworks

The Beautiful Paintings are revolutionary artworks that blur the boundaries between digital and physical art creation using machine learning algorithms.

These artworks are the result of a unique combination of generative options given on a database; whereby colours, styles, shapes, sizes, and mediums were merged to create unrepeated patterns. The algorithm also created playfully long and descriptive titles starting with Beautiful and ending in Painting.

Marking the latest iteration of Hirst's iconic Spin Paintings, known for their energetic splashes of colour, The Beautiful Paintings gave collectors the opportunity to generate personalised pieces by means of AI. This consisted of a variety of techniques including WEBGL shaders, Perlin noise and trigonometric functions, which were used to create paint layers that mirrored the defined yet unpredictable motion of paint as it moved across the canvas.
